

Derya Adigüzel Özbek

Derya Adigüzel Özbek; continues her studies as an associate professor at Istanbul Kültür University, Department of Interior Architecture and Environmental Design. She completed her undergraduate education at Istanbul Technical University, Department of Interior Architecture with third place and high honors in 2009, her graduate education at Kadir Has University, Design Graduate Program with a scholarship in 2011, and her doctorate at Istanbul Kültür University, Architecture Doctorate Program in 2016. In 2015, she continued her doctoral studies at Ku Leuven Sint-Lucas Gent, within the Architectural Theory and Design research group, with an Erasmus+ doctoral researcher scholarship. She participated in Istanbul Design Week 2009 with the Lokum Lighting Collection and Harem Chandelier she designed within Phare Design. They became finalists in the smart furniture category of the 6th National Furniture Design Competition with their design named “iwish” developed together with Türkan Harmanbaşı. She was the executive of the research project titled “How Will “Life Fits Home” Transform the House, Housing Design Strategies for the COVID-19 Process and After” supported by TÜBİTAK 1001-COVID-19 call numbered 120K623. She continues her academic studies at national and international levels in the fields of interior design, interior architecture education, space-body relationship, space and phenomenology. She has numerous national and international publications, various editorship and referee duties, workshop management and interior architecture design applications.